

“Face it! Nutritious Can be Delicious”

Captex Medium Chain Triglycerides (MCTs) are a good source of fat that work great in your favorite butter or spread AND they provide sustainable energy to keep you & your kids on the go!

Captex MCTs are a great source of healthy fats that have an excellent melting point and consistency that is an ideal additive in butter and other spreads. They are easily digested with direct access to the liver where they are rapidly metabolized into ketones to be used by the brain, heart, and muscle as an alternate energy source. These products are non-GMO, made in the U.S.A and promote a healthy and sustainable lifestyle. They work great in powders too!
